Stacy's Fruitcake

George Felgerlva began blending candied cherries and pineapple with white raisins, pecans and walnuts with a brandy emulsion; no bitter peel, in his little bakery just outside of Prague, Czechoslovakia in 1789. He folded these into just enough butter batter to hold the fruits and nuts together; topping each loaf with cherries and jumbo pecans that glistened in a honey-apricot-brandy-glaze. Stacy, George's daughter-in-law, brought his formula home to Minnesota. Available October thru December.
